

ALARM THE BURGLARS (Anytime)

In a recent TV programme about burglaries I was struck by a comment made by a woman who had been burgled. “We have now installed a burglar alarm; I suppose most people do this after they have been burgled”.

Unfortunately, this is true in many cases. There is no doubt that a burglar alarm is one of the best deterrents. If you have not already done so, consider installing a burglar alarm now. This could save you all the heartache of a burglary. There are many systems on the market from DIY alarms to the more sophisticated. Whatever you choose, you are improving your security considerably.