

Coded for keeps (anytime)

Hundreds of thousands of pounds of property is stolen each year and much of what is retrieved by police is unidentifiable and can never be returned to its rightful owner.

Marking your property deters thieves. They find identifiable property dangerous to handle and difficult to dispose of.

Thieves like things they can easily sell for a lot of money such as TV's, videos and hi-fis. You can mark these things with your postcode and the number or the name of your house or flat.

There are "invisible" marker pens readily available and they can be used all round the house. An engraving tool can be used on garden equipment, bicycles and other large items.